

Uncle Jerry's Great Idea

DRL3-2 Lesson 2

On Saturday Jim's family went to the park. His father played baseball. His mother played tennis. His sister played basketball. His Uncle Jerry played baseball, too.

On Saturday, Jim played baseball, too, but on his computer.

Jim's mother and father were not happy.

"He never goes to the park," his mother said quietly.

“You always stay home on the computer,” said his father. “Why don’t you come to the park?”
“I don’t like the park,” said Jim,
“I like my computer.”
Now Jim wasn’t happy.

“I don’t like the park,” said Jim.
“I have an idea,” said Uncle Jerry.
“Next Saturday, bring some paper
and a pencil to the park.”

The next Saturday, Jim went to the park. His father went up to bat. "Watch us play and count everything we do," said Uncle Jerry. "OK," said Jim.

Story Talking

Read and talk about the picture

“Is it like baseball on the computer?” asked Jim.

“Yes. Just count the times we get runs and hits,” Uncle Jerry said.

So Jim started to count and write.
